Sorry, I'm out of time and a little rushed. The computer is weird. Sorry if I missed any of your questions. Thanks for sending the information about pulling money off the card. I am going to take off some at an ATM, doesn't look like there is a big fee. I am trying to improve my budgeting skills while on the mission. President Dias said that the mission is preparation for Marriage and that it is a good idea to learn finance skills during the mission.

Another thing, Thank you for raising me to be patriotic, or to appreciate living in America. I am grateful for the different family traditions that we have, watching 1776 every year. Just recognizing the blessing it is to live in the United States of America. Not that I don't like Brasil, but I finally realize how blessed we are and physically can see it.

Language struggles are the same, rollercoaster. I am trying to get better. Thanks for donating language learning time mom!

Another thing to do after the mission is we should go to the temple together again. It would be awesome if by that time Bradford is reactivated. You're in my prayers, and I appreciate the prayers you give for me.

Thank you again for everything you have done for me. Being on my mission now, I am just realizing so many times the appreciation, or taking for granted how you raised me, but I am thanking you now.

Also, what is going to happen for the call on Mother's Day? We should get plans ready for that so it will all work smoothly.

Love you Mom and Dad!
