Dear Phillip:

Just want you to know I read, then reread your letters each week and enjoy hearing all you are doing, and how you are growing.

Congratulations on performing your first mission baptism. And I think it is neat you are teaching English....is this to other Elders, or to whom? It sounds as though the Portugese language skills are coming along and that is great.

I nearly gagged over you having to eat intestines.....even though they tasted OK :(. I feel the same way about liver from any animal because of what livers are designed to do!

Thanks for sharing your testimony with us. Thanks for being such a good missionary.

Love and Hugs.....Grandma Larsen
