Querido Mom and Dad,

Thanks for answering the questions that I had.

Quickly, again about cell phones, so they are bad and do harm to the body, but obviously not absolutely dangerous in every way. Is it when it is close to you that it is bad? and what exactly is it that is bad?

One thing that I have been thinking of recently is that Ricky seems to be having a more spiritually filled mission, or I feel like he is anyways. Do my letters sound like his too?

That is good that the phone call was all resolved. Unfairpoint... hah. That was a huge number!

To answer some of your questions mom, my new companion is cool. He is a very different personality than Elder Magalhães. This will be a good transfer. Nothing new that I have eaten this past week, beans and rice, actually there was a really good dessert that one sister made for lunch, it was a chocolate pudding.

We are going to the Dentist tomorrow, for my companion, I think that I have cavaties again... :(my teeth aren't hurting, but I don't want to have a root canal again. I am trying more to keep them clean. I think because of all the juice here, and the cookies that I have been eating, that those things may have caused cavaties. I hope not though. I cut down on the cookies. They don't compare with your cookies anyways mom. I have saudades for those...

Grrr... I feel like I had something to say that was important, but I forgot to write it down and right now I cannot remember.

Haven't recieved the package yet. Did you send it to the address right? the address that I sent over email. I hope I sent it right to you.
