

Hi Mommy,

I finally remembered to create a new "Discover" account for you in Quicken. I left it open so you could see it. Now when you enter receipts into quicken you need to be sure the correct account is selected, either "Zions" or "Discover". Entering the information is done exactly the same way. If you enter a receipt into the wrong account by mistake it is easy to move it from one to another. You select the transaction that needs to move, then you click on "Edit > Transaction > Move" and it pops up a window that lets you select the account to move it to.

Anyway, I hope this helps you out. You should be able to enter all your receipts into the new account and then reconcile it exactly the same way that you have done the Zions account. Contact me if you have any trouble.

Love you,

Johnny
